Tell us your fundraising plans for the chance to win £500!

As part of our partnership with BBC Children in Need, IRIS Education are offering schools the chance to win £500 to spend on whatever they want. From books to art supplies: simply unleash your inner entrepreneur!

Take on the Dragon's Den challenge, as a form or with friends, by popping £1 each in a starter kitty. Get creative by coming up with fundraising business ideas to grow your total for BBC Children in Need on 19th November.

To enter, simply post your best-performing fundraising ideas and the total money raised on any social media platform using the hashtag #IRISChildreninNeed. A leading entrepreneur will then judge your entries and choose two secondary schools to win £500 each!

Oh, and if your school takes the crown, IRIS will donate a further £500 to BBC Children in Need in your name. Win Win!

Let them eat cake (or bread, or scones...)

Business not your bag? Try baking! Bake sales are a great way to get involved, so take selfies with your masterpieces and post them on social media using the hashtag #IRISChildreninNeed to be in with a chance of winning £500.
