Windows 2012 end-of-life

As you may know, after 10th October 2023, anyone relying on Windows Server 2012/2012 R2 will be at a heightened risk of cyberattacks and exposed to security vulnerabilities. The absence of updates leaves your system susceptible to the latest security threats, and the consequences of a breach can be severe.

Upgrading your server hardware and software is often seen as an expensive, time-consuming process. But you can switch to our secure, cloud-based virtual desktop solution that's regularly updated and keeps everyone working from a single, secure point.
